

Marketing Points!

- 2008 SilverDocs selection and over 14 other film festivals worldwide
- Famous director Yury Khashchevatski, often referred to as the "Michael Moore" of Belarus
- Over 3 million native Belarusians live outside of Belarus with most living in the United States
- College and High School level educational material available
- Special Features include: Exclusive video interview with Director Yury Khashchevatski.

Run Time: 87 Min
Rating: NR: All Ages, Nothing Objectionable
Format: NTSC
Language: Russian (English sub-title)

Order Date: 12 May 2009
Street Date: 9 June 2009
List: $24.95 USD
Catalog #: GTP9567

Three months before elections the president of the Republic of Belarus Alexander Lukashenka claimed: "You have no other choice, you will vote for me!" We were trying to figure out how did it happen that 83% of the population voted for Lukashenka? The film tracks the opposition struggle during few post-election days. The movie shows the falsehood of the official propaganda and the ambiguous, sometimes polar, attitude of simple people. Assembling together all the debris of the opinions, comparing different historical events, jeering at dictator's arrogance and manners, admiring courage and dedication of the young generation, the feature approaches the understanding of what is really going on in the middle of Europe.

And one more thing –the director's sarcastic comment throughout the film does not make you bored!

Distributed in North America by GARDEN THIEVES PICTURES · 2717 13th St NW· Washington, DC 20009
phone: (202) 253-4949 · fax: (866) 297-8103